Purpose

Fictional demonstration document describing selected operational responsibilities for people managers.

Hiring approvals

A manager may initiate a hiring request, but a new permanent position requires department-head and HR approval before an offer is issued.

Performance reviews

Managers must conduct a formal performance review every 6 months. Each review includes documented goals, measurable outcomes, development feedback, and employee comments.

A standard performance improvement plan normally runs for 60 days and includes written expectations and fortnightly check-ins.

Team leave planning

As a guideline, no more than 30% of a small team should be on planned leave at the same time unless the department head approves an exception.

Incident escalation

A manager must escalate a suspected data-security incident to the Security team within 1 hour of becoming aware of it.
